

You might want to pause assembly at this step and paint this sub-assembly and the remaining two U shaped MDF pieces before proceeding to the the next step which is assembling the acrylic components

